Growing Up Digital

“The internet is an extraordinary force for good but it is not designed with children in mind. Yet one third of internet users are under the age of 18 and the part it plays in their lives continues to grow: among 3-4 year olds, in the last year, time online increased from 6 hours 48 minutes to 8 hours 18 minutes a week, and 12-15 year olds now spend over 20 hours a week online.”

“At the moment, children are not being equipped with adequate skills to negotiate their lives online”

Laptop and Internet Use

- De-tech the bedroom – for all?
- Laptop and internet use should be in a family area and clearly visible
- Discuss online activity
- Have access to laptops/phones – be engaged
- Digital Free Sabbath

Ending Laptop and Internet Use

- Next time your child is sitting in front of a screen, and you want to end it, try this:
- Sit with her for 30 seconds, a minute, or longer, and simply watch whatever she is watching/doing.
- Ask an innocent question about what's happening on screen. Most children love their parent's attention, and will provide answers.
- Once you've created a dialogue, you've created a bridge – a bridge that will allow your child to, in his mind and body, step from screen back into the real world, without hormones in free-fall, and therefore without crisis.

Please don't call your child during the school day
